Sacandaga and Hawkins refused at the upper turn, but the former soon was straighted out. As they came up the first time around Arlington was leading handily, with facandaga second. Game Cock, fencing heavily, and going away wide at the turns, was third. At the pig pen Gypsic balked and Mr. Marper fell. It took him a lot of fine to get straightened out and going again, and from then on Hawkins and Gypsic didn't figure.

and from then on Hawkins and Gypsic digits figure.

"Arthfaton meantime was leading in fine fishion. He imade his jumps cleanly and sarded softly after each one. It didn't look as it, barring the casualties of jumpling taces, he could lose. Sacandaga was about ten lengths in back at the second appearance before the stand and Game Cock was slightly more than that in the rear. But at the stand there was a casualty. Mr. Bell on Artington instook his course and instead of soles over, the double jump he drove Arlington down the lane where the finishes were prace."

Sacandaga and Game Cock held to the right line and shot away ahead of the former reader. Arlington lost nearly a quarter of a mile before he was pulled back into the course. Then Harper made the fatal mistake of setting out to make up all the lost ground in as kurry. He succeeded so well that he had closed with Game Cock, thirty lengths behind Sacandaga, in less than half amile. Then he kept right on and was lying close to Sacandaga as the upper turn, about a half mile from home. Game Cock was third, running a sluggish race and seemingly too far in back to have a chance.

"At a nasky jump in the hollow, just before the last fence, Sacandaga came sharply away from the two others and Mr. Devereux at down to finish a winning race. At every strice Sacandaga gained in power and it looked too easy to lose. The fact of the matter was that Sacandaga go going with so much strength that his owner wasn't even lane to steer him straight. When Sacandaga to to the homestretch he made the reverse of the mistake Arlington performed earlier. He bolted down to the pig pen and lost the race then and there.

Mr. Rumsey on Game Cock, who came on at too speed in the last twenty strides and beat Arlington a neck. Then it rained some more.

CRESCENTS PLAY A MAN SHORT But Beat New York Lacrosse Club by S Goals to 2.

At the Crescent Athletic Club yesterday the New York Lacrosse Club was the visiting aggregation, and although the New Moon stars played eleven against twelve men they won by the score of 3 goals to 2. The first period of play ended 2 to 0 in favor of the Crescent Athletic Club. No poorer day for the sport could be imagined. Rain fell throughout the struggle, the grass was as slippefy as ice and a raw wind swept in from the Narrows which chilled the few spectators and the players to the hone.

To somewhat even the sides C. de Casanova went into goal for the Brooklyn club and played in his street clothes. To protect them from the weather the other players all wore outlandish costumes. The match therefore was somewhat of a farce.

Crescent at once took the aggressive and the ball was kept continually around the New York cage. It took eight minutes to tally the first point. O'Rourke made the tally. The same player made the second goal as the first half was ending. In the second period the New Yorkers played much better. Luxenburg found the net in four minutes and hardly had the teams lined up than the same player tied with a pretty shot. Wall broke the team sloved play. favor of the Crescent Athletic Club.

FINE GAME BY HOPKINS. Baltimore Lacrosse Men Win Handily

From Stevens, 8 to 3. BALTIMORE, May 1.—Johns Hopkins played championship lacrosse to-day, deplayed championship lacrosse to-day, defeating Stevens Institute, 8 to 3. Stevens's team put up a fine game and in stick work appeared to have the advantage over Hopkins. In the opening plays there were some clever passes between Klein and Frank, the latter scoring the first taily. The Hobokenites showed their mettle and had the Hopkins defence working overtime. Capt. Smith, Cunningham and Armstrong, on the Stevens attack, made the Hopkins veterans, Schmeisser, Chesney and Guttman, loosen up.

The Hopkins attack played with a dash that wearled Stevens's defence. The first half ended to 0 in Hopkins's favor. At the opening of the second half Stevens scored two goals in quick succession. At this stage of the game things looked strong for Stevens, but the Hopkins defence was adequate.

The Browns made eight hits in the three games against the White Sox for a grand total of no runs. Their hitting per game was to their scoring as 22.8 to an aching void. Abstein, who seems to be filling the bill at first for the Pirates, is the sixth first sacker that team has had in as many years. Between Bransfield and Abstein, Nealon, Storke, Kane, Swacina and Gill have played the bag.

Stars who have been out of the game more or less from physical disabilities this season are Chase. Elberfeid, Bridwell, Doyle, Seymour, Hemphill, Turner, Thoney, Bradley, Johnson, Bresnahan, Lumley and Schulter.

Bresnahan, Lumley and Schulte.
The only teams in the big leagues not shut out yet are the Detroits, Cincinnatis and Cardinals. The Washingtons have been blanked twice, the White Sox once, the Athletics once, the Red Sox once, the Clevelands once, the Browns three times and the Highlanders once. In the National League the Pirates have been goose egged twice, the Glants three times, the Brooklyns once, the Phillies once, the Cubs once and the Bostons three times.

Modest Johnny Evers. He saw the Reds and Cubs play their double header the other day and said afterward that he was ready to play, but didn't see any place for himself the way Zimmerman was going. If Johnny has become superfluous for the Cubs there are clubs that will be willing to find a regular berth for him. Address Stallings, McGraw. Lumley, Mack. Cantillon, McAleer, Bresnaban, Clarke and some seven others.

CAPABLANCA LOSES.

Marshall Defeats Cuban Chess Wonder a Very Brief Game at Scranton. SCRANTON, Pa., May 1. - Sensational pla by Frank J. Marshall in the seventh game of his chess match with José R. Capablance played at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. it ican master to defeat the Cuban champio blanca resigned after twenty-five move as the result of a very pretty queen sacrifice. It was the first game of the series Marshall has won.

William E. Napler, former champion o Great Britain, and now a resident of this city, will act as referee while the players

O'Hara of Scranton was the umpire for Capablanca. Many chess enthusiasts from Wilkesbarre, where the two masters will play their eighth game on Monday. Williams port and other nearby towns were instrend ance and followed the moves of the game with keen relish.

Marshall had the white pieces in a queen agambit and Capablanca, as has been his wont, declined the gambit, and the game too.

Marshall had the white pieces in a queen a gambit and Capablance, as has been his wont, declined the gambit, and the game took the course of the other games of the match in which the Cuban played his king's knight to Ka at an early stage. For eleven mores the play followed practically the same lines, but after that Marshall varied by advancing his queen's rook's pawn and making full use of it in accordance with the true spirit of the opening. This manceuvre enabled the American to post his queen favorably at QR3, and with a tempo.

All the pieces on the board were brought to bear upon the scene of conflict; which was mainly along the three files on the left side of the board. Marshall castled only on his fifteenth move. The latter's forces were placed more favorably and when on his eighteenth move he exchanged his hishop for the black knight it became apparent to the onlookers that Capablanca was in serious trouble for the first time since the beginning of the match.

With his nineteenth move Marshall advanced the rook's pawn to the sixth, forcing the bishop between the black bishop's pawn and the protecting rook. In consequence Marshall won a pawn and was left in addition with an ideal position, every one of his pieces holding important squares. At least twenty-fourth move Capablanca placed his rook at Kt3 in an effort to ktem the tide, but Marshall calmly captured it with his queen, though protected by a pawn.

Capablanca realized that if he were to take the white queen there would be no wat of stopping the rook's pawn from queening and he resigned gracefully. The score of the series now stands as follows: Capablanca, 3: Marshall, 1: drawn, 3.

BUILDING THREE AEROPLANES. J. A. D. McCurdy Will Try for Prize for Flying in England.

J. A. D. McCurdy, a member of the Aeria Experiment Association, recently dis-banded, and who made a series of suc-cessful flights in the Silver Dart, was at the Aero Club of America yesterday on his way to Baddeck. Nova Scotia, from Washington, D.C., where he went to confer with Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, who was Washington, D. C., where he went to confer with Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, who was the head of the defunct organization. Mr. McCurdy announced that he and F. W. Baldwin, another member of the association, are engaged in the construction of three aeroplanes, one of which he intende to take to England to compete for the $5.000 prize offered to the first British subject who files a mile in an aeroplane built of British materials. Mr. McCurdy is a Canadian, which makes him eligible in the contest Mr. McCurdy hopes to dispose of his machines to the Canadian Government, which has recently appropriated $50,000 for aeronautical purposes.

Vesterday Mr. McCurdy was in conference with E. L. Jones, editor of Aeronautics, who wanted to engage Mr. McCurdy to give a flight in the Silver Dart at Merris Park on May 29 at the opening exhibition of the Aeronautic Society. Mr. McCurdy said no public demonstration will be given with the Silver Dart, which remains the properity of the members of the Aerial Experiment Association, and will be kept for experimental purposes. Mr. McCurdy visited the Herring-Curtis factory at Hammonds port and inspected the machine being constructed for the Aeronautic Society, which will be delivered within the next two weeks.
